

Farewell message from outgoing DDG

Brig Sanal Kumar

With pride and honour I hang up my uniform today.

From being a cadet at the Sainik School Kazhakuttam, through NDA and IMA, and 36 plus years of marching under the tricolour across our wonderful country as well as representing India abroad, it has been a long and satisfying journey in uniform. On the verge of doffing the olive greens, I pay my prayerful respects to all those who have made me what I am - warts and all. Thank You.

I was singularly fortunate that I was able to spend my final years in the company of young men and women of my home state in the NCC. I owe a great debt of happiness to the many colleagues, both in and out of uniform, in the NCC for the experience. Thank You.

Vivacious and enthusiastic, the future leaders of the country who are being groomed as NCC cadets have been my single biggest source of inspiration. It is my fervent hope that you will continue to be your happy dedicated and ebullient Serves, and take our Country forward to its bright destiny.

Thank You, God Bless, Jai Hind !
